A unique sports event!

With about 15.000 athletes from 25 nations the World Sports Festival is one of the biggest youth sports events throughout Europe. In 2012 it will be already the fifth time that participants will find themselves stoked by the exceptional and unforgettable atmosphere this event carries. As in previous years also in 2012 the festival will be confidently under the patronage of the UNESCO.

From the 5th to the 8th of July 2012 tournaments will be held in 13 different sports taking place in Vienna and its surroundings. Provided with long lasting memories and new experiences gathered during the festival the participating young athletes will return home.

Kids and teenagers aged between 11 and 21 years from all over the world will compete against each other. Moreover they will also have the chance to get to know each other and experience other cultures, which aim to broaden their horizon and allow them to develop liberal attitudes which will have a lasting effect on them.

No matter if amateur team, school team or professional club – the sportive diversity offers an interesting mix in team and individual sports. See for yourself and be part of the World Sports Festival 2012, when Albania meets the Faroe Islands, Zimbabwe matches Austria, and people from four continents come together for an unforgettable and unique sports event.

Details about the tournaments can be found on the website of the event, www.world-sports-festival.com.

Cultural exchange, cosmopolitanism and fair competition!

Awareness training on “clean” sport needs to begin during childhood and adolescence. In cooperation with the NADA (National Anti Doping Agency) it has always been an important mission of the WSF not to give doping a chance and to inform people about this issue. This anti-doping mission will also be a main part of the festival in 2012.

Besides the quest for time limits, strikes and scores, it is the unifying force between the different nationalities, which stands in the foreground of this festival. The WSF holds itself as a place where skin color, religion and social background do not matter!

Stars of today are supporting the heroes of tomorrow!

The World Sports Festival is supported by numerous Austrian as well as international professional athletes. Acting as ambassadors they advise the young sportsmen/women in their further career and stand out as important role models.

David Alaba – player of Austria’s national soccer-team and ambassador of the World Sports Festival 2011:

„The WSF stands out since many years as an international tournament that holds on to the clear statement of promoting youth sports beyond religious, ethnical and social backgrounds. Every year I am impressed to see how many youngsters from all over the world come together to present their potential. I know from my own experience that competing in international sports events from an early age on is a crucial part in one’s sportive career – thumbs up to all competitors!”

The Program

During the day it's all about sports, but there are also breaks between the different tournaments which feature entertaining fun and cool shows. The World Sports Festival presents itself as a youth festival which is packed with highlights!

The opening ceremony takes place in the Trenkwalder Admira Stadium and marks the highlight for many participants. Providing a unique atmosphere the opening march of nations brings you goose bumps and lets you enjoy a magic moment. In the evening live music, numerous show acts and fireworks present an unforgettable gala event.

The pyramid Vösendorf, also called Players Town, is the center of the WSF and the place where you live during the Festival. At the same time you can try new fun sports, show your musical talent on the karaoke stage and enjoy the great atmosphere at the Players' Party.

From day one everybody is looking forward to the impressive award ceremony taking place at the end of our festival when the winners receive the very popular "World Sports Festival" trophy. A more detailed itinerary can be found on our website www.world-sports-festival.com.
